

DO YOU NEED MORE FUNDING?

Have you Considered Contracting a Professional Grant Writer?

There is no doubt that Charitable Trust funding is becoming more difficult to obtain with most Not for Profits having to increase their number of applications to Charitable Trusts in order to just maintain current levels of funding.

Many Not for Profits are now seeking the services of a professional Grant Writer who will maximise the opportunities that exist for them in the Charitable Trust sector. A professional Grant Writer knows how to create a funding strategy that will build strong relationships with funders and provide the maximum funding for your organisation. A Grant Writer has a good understanding of what funders require in an application and has already established working relationships with most funders which will increase your chances of success. Contracting a Grant Writer is a smart investment, one that will also reduce your fundraising costs. At FundingNZ it is our job to know...

Who to apply to and How, When and What to apply for

You can write your own grant proposals, and many still do so successfully. But why would you want to? Couldn't your time, money and efforts be better utilised in other capacities?

FundingNZ has raised over $20 Million Dollars for Not for Profits and can do the same for you!
